

LEADERSHIP CAMP

Fully customized to your team's needs, Leadership Camp offers a retreat experience combining interactive learning exercises with process facilitation. Executive, project or leadership teams will discover fresh insights into interpersonal and team dynamics while building new levels of trust.

How Does It Work?

Leadership Camp is structured around the metaphor of an expedition, but the individual activities are chosen and customized in close consultation with your organization. Myers-Briggs or Emotional Intelligence (EQ) assessments are typically incorporated along with challenge course events for team and leadership development. Over the course of approximately two days, participants learn on multiple levels while engaging in exciting camp adventures.

How Do Participants Benefit?

- Build leadership skills
- Learn about interpersonal relationships
- Increase self-awareness
- Practice listening openly and objectively to others
- Develop trust and respect for coworkers
- Experience new adventures and challenges
